D. HECHINGER & CO.

The Biggest and Best Clothing and Shoe House in Maysville.

Our Stock and Price-Reducing Sale merrily goes on. We advertised when we inaugurated this sale that the reductions would be so great that did we sell much or little there would not and could not be any further concessions. Now we want to give fair warning. Our Senior is making preparations for his annual Eastern visit. On the day of his departure for two reasons this unprecedented sale closes. One is that we have reduced the stock to almost a minimum volume, the other that the public is now so well posted that we are selling our finest clothing at such low figures that it will be the fault of the laggards if they don't come in whilst "THE GOING IS GOOD;" and don't forget your Automobile tickets.

HIGH-NECK LONG-SLEEVE NIGHTGOWNS

Many women prefer nightgowns with high necks and long sleeves, particularly during the winter. Our collection of this style is unusually complete. Soft finished cambric and nainsook, V-necked, round or square, trimmed with pretty embroideries.

Prices Range From 50c to $1.98.

Double Panel Petticoats

More of them unpacked today. Two styles—one trimmed with lace, the other has both lace and embroidery. The double panel in front prevents the too transparent effect. These styles would be exceptional at $1 without the double panel, with it they are astonishingly good.

The Wonderful Dollar Nightgowns

Undoubtedly you have seen some extra good dollar gowns at our sales before but these are even better than extra good. Twenty-five styles—daintily trimmed with ribbon-run embroideries and lovely laces. Some have Val casings for the ribbon. The softest nainsook is used in the making and the sewing is so carefully done it looks like the work of a dressmaker.

There ain't going to be no war with Japan—she is about to invest $600,000 in her display at the Panama-Pacific Exposition.

AMERICAN TOADYISM.

Unless our French is even worse than we know it to be the following line from an advertisement inserted by a large Eastern hotel in a large Eastern paper is very bad French indeed:

"TANGO DANTSANTS."

"Dantsant" means dancing. A "The Dantsant" means a "dancing tea." The hotel proprietor evidently has the idea that "dantsant" means a dance, and is trying to advertise "tango dantsants." The reward of toadyism is to be made ridiculous. Why try to use French in an American advertisement?—Frankfort State Journal.

THE DOG QUESTION.

George Goodnight, a farmer and fox hunter of this county was arraigned on a charge of failing to obey a summons of the Board of Equalization before Judge Collier, Monday, and was fined $25 and costs, a total of $30.50. The case was the sequel of an attempt on the part of the Board of Tax equalization to have Mr. Goodnight list his dogs for taxation. The Democrat is informed that the dogs had not been listed with the assessor and the Board notified Mr. Goodnight to list the animals. The last day the Board was in session the sheriff called Mr. Goodnight on the phone and notified him that if he did not appear before the Board before 4 o'clock, the hour of adjournment, a warrant would be issued for his arrest. Mr. Goodnight is alleged to have notified the Board on the phone that he knew the law and did not intend to come. The Chairman of the Board thereupon went before the County Attorney and swore out a warrant for the arrest.

Stanley Blake, of Berry, proprietor of the Blue Grass Kennels, appeared before the Board and listed 50 dogs for taxation.—State Journal.

OUR BOUNDLESS WEALTH.

The striking figures in the Preliminary Estimates of the Department of Agriculture are those showing that only 21 per cent. of the total area of the United States is unavailable for agriculture or fruit growing.

The foundation of national prosperity is the fertility of soil. A country with 80 per cent. of fertility is supplied with the best of natural resources. In some countries—for example Japan—the figures made by the Department of Agriculture are reversed. Only about 20 per cent. of Japan's total area is available for agriculture.

The fact that for every 100 acres in cultivation in America there are 375 acres awaiting the hoe shows that we may look forward to becoming four times as rich as we are, and if America is not the first of nations in diplomacy or fighting strength she is the plutocrat, with but 27 per cent. of her greatest natural resource now returning a profit.

As the country fills up with population the "back-to-the-farm" problem will be solved without propaganda. In densely crowded countries little arable ground lies idle save that which is reserved by a land-owning aristocracy or otherwise kept out of the market for farms. When America is 100 years older she will be at least 100 per cent. wealthier than she is today, and the full development of her agricultural resources will not then have been reached.—Courier-Journal.

Three seats on the New York Stock Exchange were sold yesterday for $55,000 each, an advance of $5,000 from the last previous sale.

THINGS TO WORRY ABOUT.

One of the German transatlantic liners carries diving suits equipped with speaking tubes for the use of members of its crew in fighting fires below decks.

SOME SPENDERS AT "KY. STATE."

Hywel Davies, business agent, testified in the probe of State University at Lexington that several connected with the institution were drawing two and three salaries and that the university had spent the $40,000 Peabody fund given it in trust and had overdrawn $36,000.

THE ENGLISH TONGUE.

Lord Ashbourne, a fire-eating Irishman, has attracted attention by making a speech in Gaelic in which he says the dental sounds in the English language have deformed the mouths of the English so that all of them have the long front teeth of rodent animals and resemble rabbits.

The English language may be less liquid than Gaelic, a lack of knowledge of which we must confess, knowing a pretty "colleen" when we see her, but knowing nothing else in the Irish tongue. But English is rapidly gaining ground as the cosmopolitan language. Its growth in the whole world far exceeds that of any other tongue. It is the "pidgin" or business language of the Orient, and gained ground in commercial circles in the Latin American and Latin European countries. It is not observable that it produces the rabbit face anywhere. Lord Ashbourne is a valiant, patriotic, and brilliant son of Erin who has chosen a novel way of lambasting the English. That's all.—Frankfort State Journal.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR NEGRO LABOR.

An intelligent article, written by Robert McCurdy, of Chicago, is going the rounds of the newspapers in this country upon one phase of the negro problem, namely, the employment of meritorious negro women.

Mr. McCurdy states that there is one form of skilled labor open to negro women, namely, that of the trained nurse. He gives an interesting account of the workings of the Provident Hospital in Chicago, where negro women are educated as trained nurses. The nursing force of this hospital seems to compare favorably with hospitals of the same size and class in other cities.

The information furnished as to the efficiency of the graduates is interesting, and the point is well made that there is no field of labor that offers better rewards to the intelligent and industrious negro woman.

It is important for those directing institutions where negro women are educated for this work to make the requirements sufficiently rigid to winnow out the unfit.—Louisville Post.

His wife met him at the door. His dinner had been waiting for 30 minutes, but she was smiling sweetly. Her hair was done up in a becoming style, and she looked ten years younger than usual.

She put her arms around his neck, drew his head down, and kissed him sweetly.

"Give me your hat and coat," she said. "I will hang them away, for I can see that you are tired. Have you had a hard day at the office, dear?"

"Yes," he replied. "I'm all fagged out."

"I'm sorry. But never mind. I feel sure that things will take a turn for the better soon. I've got a surprise for you—the maid has prepared a nice chicken stew, the kind you like so well. Shall I run upstairs and get your slippers?"

"Never mind, little woman," he replied, pushing his hand into his pocket. "How much do you want?"—Chicago Record-Herald.

TO GIVE AWAY $3,000.

A national competition in art has just come to a close in Battle Creek, Mich., with the awarding of $3,000 in prizes, by C. W. Post, for three successful paintings on the subject, "Dangerous Servants,"—alcohol, tobacco and coffee.

Many entries were received and in the final selection the prizes were awarded as follows:—

First prize, $2,000—Miss Mary Aiken, 121 Highland street, Worcester, Mass.

Second prize, $500—Watson Barratt, Little Neck, Long Island, New York.

Third prize, $300—Charles F. O'Brien, 9244 St. Winchester Ave., Chicago, Ill.

The eliminative process in determining the prize winners was unique but very satisfactory. Mr. Post first advertised the prizes and furnished details as to the lesson the picture should teach. These preliminary sketches were asked to be filed by all competitors by September 1, 1913.

From the scores of sketches received, there were selected the work of six artists asking them to compete with finished oil paintings to be in the hands of the judges by Dec. 31, 1913. From the work of these contestants the three prize winners were selected.

The first prize winner which is to be used in advertising the pure food-drink, Postum, embodies to the fullest meaning the lesson of the evils of coffee, tobacco and alcohol. The central figure is a youth surrounded by the three servants depicted by alluring women, each offering temptation, the pipe, the wine and the cup of coffee. The youth is pushing aside all these and is gazing earnestly at a city in the distance and opportunity. In the distance also are the forms of two children. The picture is exceptionally well executed.

A Ford touring car, owned by Liveryman Ross, and occupied by Charles Stewart, who is employed by Mr. Ross and Carl Quillen, two women and a young girl, ran into the lake at Cliffside Park shortly before nine o'clock last night, and although all were given a "ducking," they escaped injury beyond a small cut on Quillen's wrist, miraculous as it may seem.

WHAT IS OLD AGE?

Some Younger At 65 Than Others Are At 40 Years.

Old age is not marked by years, but by the stiffened frame, the hardened tissues and arteries.

So many people whom you meet about the time they reach 40 begin by saying "I can't do this, and I can't do that, because I'm getting old now," they begin to act old, feel old and they are older in appearance than many who are much more advanced in years.

When you begin to feel old, when your energy begins to fail build yourself up with our delicious cod liver and iron tonic, Vinol. It is a wonderful blood-maker and strengthener.

H. C. Klyce of Corinth, Miss., says: "I am 75 years old and my blood was very poor. I was in a rundown condition and felt that I must have a tonic. Vinol was recommended and it built up my strength until I felt as strong and well as ever."

Thousands of old people have found in Vinol just the medicine they need to build up the feeble, weakened system and create strength. If it fails, we return your money. J. C. Pecor, Druggist, Maysville, Ky.

Florida Letter From An Ex-Kentuckian
Tells Of The Joys One Has In The Flowery Kingdom.

St. Cloud, Fla., Jan. 25th, 1914.

Editor Public Ledger: I remember reading some 10 years ago, a story of a voyage by sea to Florida, by Mary Sidney of Philadelphia, and as many are still coming by sea as well as by land, what she wrote of then may be worth repeating here in writing about Florida at this time. She started off to say that "The Head"—her husband—"and I celebrated the anniversary of our wedding of half a century ago, while we of the North have been shivering with cold and half buried in snow, we read of Florida as 'a land of sunshine and flowers.' So the desire seized us to see this paradise of the winter months and judge for ourselves as to its merits or demerits. How to get there was the question. We discussed railroads and rates, ocean steamers and river boats. An ocean voyage had been on my mind as one of the joys of life beyond my reach; but here we might combine land and travel, and we could take a voyage and yet not leave our own country. So we decided to try the water. We left Philadelphia during one of the coldest days of the season, when the river was full of ice; and everyone told us it was very unsafe to venture. The vessel looked very attractive when we went on board. The decks were clean and inviting, and the dining-room with its spotless linen and polished silver, made us hungry to behold. We started in the evening and passed through the snow-covered ice of the river in the night without any difficulties. Thus far all was well, but here we reached the ocean wave, and we began to wave too. What we got of glass and silver and trained waiters now! The Head stood it manfully, for awhile, but the second night we struck a particularly rough place off Cape Hatteras and even he had to surrender the remnants of his supper.

"When morning came, however, he was ready for his breakfast as usual. He had no mind to let the company make money off him in this way, he said. But was sick all the time, eating had no attraction for me. I have had all of seagoing that I need. I am a full convert to the parody: "A life on the ocean wave—The man who wrote it was green, He had never been to sea, And a vessel never had seen. He has seen a fat man Growing thinner, day by day, Leaning against the vessel's side Throwing himself away. That man may have sailed in a boat, In a vessel, or on some pond; But if he has been to sea and wrote Such a song, he deserves to be drowned."

"Nothing, perhaps, will make a person so long for home as to be sea sick. How I wish that I had stayed at home. We landed at Savannah in the night, and realized that we had reached a warmer climate than we had left, though winter clothing was in order and comfortable.

"At the station we found the waiting rooms in different apartments—some for white, others for black people. The car in which we rode was also labeled 'White'. The orange trees will be in bloom soon, so will the grape-fruit, but roses and other flowers are blooming all winter. Come and see us and enjoy the climate. A. S. COLE.

"Nothing, perhaps, will make a person so long for home as to be sea sick. How I wish that I had stayed at home. We landed at Savannah in the night, and realized that we had reached a warmer climate than we had left, though winter clothing was in order and comfortable.

COXEY'S DECLARATION

Will Lead Another Army of Unemployed to Washington.

Cleveland, O.—General Jacob Coxey of Massillon, declared he will be in Washington May 1 with 500,000 unemployed men, a new "Coxey's army," to impress the government officials. "May 1 will be the twentieth anniversary of the old 'Coxey's Army' march to Washington," said the general. "My idea is that the government should establish a bank in each town of 1,000 people or more, which banks shall loan money direct to the people."

PLANS GROW DEFINITE

For New C. & O. Bridge Over the Ohio River at Portsmouth.

Portsmouth, Ohio.—From a source outside the city that can hardly be questioned it has been learned that the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Company has plans under consideration for the erection of a bridge across the Ohio River near Sciotoville, eight miles north of this city, and the handling of a part of its enormous traffic in coal destined for the lake region, between the Ohio River and Columbus, over the Norfolk and Western Lines. At the latter point it will be taken care of by a subsidiary line of the Chesapeake road.

Along with the above comes the announcement that completion of the plans will necessitate the erection by the Chesapeake and Ohio of an immense freight depot in this city, and perhaps a passenger station also.

ON KEEPING YOUNG.

We have been talking of late on the advantages of being young. We have urged youth to go ahead and be itself, altho, it needs no urging. But how can we prolong that youth? Is there a set age when it must disappear? Need it vanish at, say, thirty years? Is it only the dawn flush? There is a way provided by which the sun may be bidden to stand still. That way was long ago shown us by the noblest of our New Englanders. Books, travel, society, solitude—these will keep a man young, because they feed the sources of his life. They replenish the wellsprings. Ignorance, cowardice, drudgery of spirit—these dry him up before his time.—Colliers.

Cigarette Smoking.

Cigarette smoking among pupils at the institution was next gone into, members of the committee explaining that upon the occasion of a recent visit by them to the university they saw hundreds of cigarette butts lying about the class rooms and in the halls. They criticized the practice of cigarette smoking severely, and said there was danger of fire starting from lighted cigarette butts tossed carelessly aside by smokers.

R. C. Stoll, one of the members of the board of directors of the university, who happened to be present at the hearing, agreed with the committee, and assured it he would advocate the issuance of a rule against the practice.

With a view to getting an expression from Mr. Davies regarding discipline among pupils at the university, members of the committee referred to an incident that occurred last fall when Lieut. Gov. McDermott was addressing an audience in the Opera-house and was interrupted by 800 or more students, who formed a "shirt-tail" parade, marching up one aisle of the Opera-house and down the other. It was brought out that later in the night several hundred students connected with the university engaged in a street brawl and "beat up" two policemen.

This conduct, Mr. Davies said, was no worse than that at other institutions of a similar nature, and probably not as bad as some. He said that during his college days he had known students to "go on a rampage," resulting in several of their number finding themselves in the hospital next morning.

Senator Speer, at this point, said that one student of Kentucky State University, at least, had gone further than that, and awoke one morning to find himself in the penitentiary, explaining that he had reference to the youth convicted of arson and later pardoned.

Mr. Davies was questioned regarding Stonewall Jackson, a senior at the university and editor of the college paper, who in a recent issue published an article to the effect that the people of Lexington were encouraging immorality and vice among the students of the institution. The witness told the committee that following the appearance of the article Judge Barker sent for young Jackson, talked to him seriously and since had maintained a censorship over the college publication. Mr. Davies declared that in his opinion the writing of the article was the act of a young man suddenly reformed and filled with the idea that he could attract the attention of newspaper and magazine publishers by means of his "lurid" effort.

Regarding a "get-together" dinner held at the university shortly after the "yellow journalism stunt," Mr. Davies said it was attended by about 150 business men of Lexington who pledged their support to the institution in every way possible. Invitations to the dinner were sent out prior to the publication in the college paper, he said, explaining that the story had no effect whatsoever upon the attendance.

Mr. Davies was asked how the university came to be overdrawn $36,000 in bank, and explained that the money had been spent necessarily. He said it would not occur again, however.

It was brought out during the inquiry that the electric light bill at the university amounts to about $3,000 annually.

JUDGE WALL

Has Made a Fine Record Since His Appointment to the State Board of Control.

(Frankfort Journal.)

The appointment yesterday by Governor McCreary of Judge Garrett S. Wall, of Maysville, to be a member of the State Board of Control for another four years, met with general approbation.

Judge Wall is president of the board and probably will be re-elected.

He has made an excellent official and is personally popular.

He was first appointed as a Democratic member by Governor Willson.

On his first call on Governor Willson in regard to the appointment, Judge Wall gave the Executive to understand that he was a genuine, dyed-in-the-wool Democrat.

"That stands in your favor" said the Governor. "It is a bi-partisan board and I intend that the Democratic members shall be genuine Democrats."

EPISCOPAL MISSIONS

Rector Fielding Last Evening In Illustrated Lectures Explained Work of The Church in American Field

The pioneer work of the Protestant Episcopal Church of America in the mission field was most interestingly, eloquently and beautifully portrayed last evening at the Church of the Nativity, by Rector James H. Fielding. It was the third of his lantern slide series and he had the largest audience present that has viewed this unique and striking method of interesting the public and educating them as to the scope and purpose of what the Episcopal Church has done and is doing in the mission field to spread the gospel of Christian enlightenment and hope among the American Indians and all over the world.

These pictures show stronger than mere words or books, just what hardships and years of work and struggle, Episcopal Bishops and their co-workers faced in their lifetime efforts to plant the Cross of Christ in the heathen lands and hearts of benighted races.

These illustrated lectures are beautiful revelations of a subject always vividly entertaining.

Our Colored Citizens.

All members of the Tigers baseball club are urged to meet Tuesday night at 8:30, at the home of Laban Bailey, ELMER BASS, Secretary.

The Colored Public Health League held a very successful meeting the second Thursday evening in this month. Quite a deal of interest was manifested and it was demonstrated that it was demonstrated that it was very much needed and is doing a work of which many people do not know. While we already have a large membership it is earnestly hoped that a great many more will become interested in the great means of stamping out that dreaded disease, tuberculosis, and join us. The White Health League is helping our people and we ought to at least show our interest by trying to help ourselves.

The City President of the Sunday School Union spent the morning at the First Presbyterian Church. The superintendent was a few minutes late, but he made up for it in the business like manner in which he handled the opening and closing exercises. The school lacks four points of being a front line school. We urge upon all schools to make the front line schools. We urge the 10 per cent increase in attendance and giving. We want to give Dr. Joplin his 50 per cent. increase by the 1915 convention.

The third week of the revival services at the First M. E. Church South opened this morning. Rev. Clark preached a strong sermon and announced services every night this week except Monday night, when he gives way to the temperance meeting at the First Baptist Church.

Rev. E. A. Kidwell, of Ewing, is the guest of Rev. Minor S. Clark on West Second street. Rev. Kidwell has just closed a gracious revival at Mt. Tabor. Rev. Kidwell is no stranger to the First M. E. Church South, and his many friends join heartily with him in his success.

Mr. Hanselman of Ravenna, Ohio, brother of Miss Marie Hanselman, instructor of music in our city school, sang a beautiful solo entitled "Just for Today," at the morning service of the Christian Church.

The Washington Christian Church used the baptistry, baptising one candidate.

Those who are in the habit of going to the Episcopal Church, and were not there last night missed a treat. Rector Fielding's illustrated talk upon the Episcopal Church in the United States was above the average. It would have been well if all the grade pupils who are studying United States history had been present. There were points of interest presented which you do not get in reading in the history. The church is to be congratulated upon this lecture.

PRESIDENT CLARK

Of the Maysville Board of Health Issues a Warning to All Persons in Maysville Who Maintain Nuisances—Will Clean Up City

To the Public Ledger:
Our Mayor at intervals has published notices to the public calling attention to our health laws and requesting an observance thereof.

He has offered to assist in the removal from private property all refuse and other objectionable matter that render them unsanitary and dangerous to the public health.

A few have complied, but many still continue to disregard the Mayor's notices and all the laws of health and decency, by suffering nuisances to exist upon their premises that imperil the lives of our citizens.

To the latter class this notice is directed, and we wish to warn them that such conditions will not be permitted to continue and if their premises are not put into a sanitary condition forthwith by the removal therefrom of all filth and other causes of sickness the Board of Health will proceed to have the law applied to all offenders.

The law provides a fine of not less than $10.00 nor more than $100—for each offense and each day continuance of a nuisance after being notified constitutes a separate offense.

There are conditions in our city suffered and permitted by property owners and tenants, that shock every sense of decency and disgrace a civilized community; that are a menace to the health of every citizen and unless removed at once will invite pestilence and every sort of disease.

Greedy, unprincipled landlords are maintaining in the very heart of our city dangerously infected shacks—mere breeding places of vermin and disease germs—without a single human convenience; not even affording shelter; which they rent to an undesirable class at relatively high rates. These places are unfit for human habitation; a disgrace to our city and should be condemned as a menace to public health and their owners heavily fined.

With the support and assistance of our citizens, and other departments of our city government, your Board of Health proposes to enforce the health laws rigidly and without favor and it solicits information from every source concerning violations of these laws.

Any complaints lodged with this Board will receive prompt action.
Respectfully,
FRANK H. CLARKE,
President Maysville Board of Health.

ELECTRIC SIGNS!

The distinguishing air of quality which a first-class Electric Sign gives to a store is the element which gives a sign its greatest value as an advertising medium and investment. The impression it makes is good. It blazes forth to the public that there is business enterprise, merchandise and methods up-to-date. It affects the entire atmosphere of the business district. The stranger says, "It is a live town," and publishes it abroad. It is the Sign of the Times.
